PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Dorothy Bonawit

"Do you know what time it is?" can be a literal inquiry to keep an appointment, a sophisticated expression as in the popular song, "I Know What Time It Is Now," or a richly figurative expression on a sun dial, "It is later than you think." Thousands of years ago the Prophet in Ecclesiastes said, "To every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven: a time to be born, and a time to die; . . . a time to kill, and a time to heal; . . . a time to get, and a time to lose; . . . a time to keep silence, and a time to speak; a time to love, and a time to hate; a time of war, and a time of peace." In this troubled world it behooves each of us to use our own capacities to the full for our personal futures and for the welfare of society. It is a time for action, not inertia; for confronting issues squarely, not escaping; for resetting sight lines, not using rose-colored glasses. Let us each determine what our dearest possessions are, what sacrifices they are worth, what ultimate outcomes we are willing to fight for, physically and morally. Recently in the United Nations, Warren Austin said, "Radar is not more sensitive to atmospheric vibrations than the personalities . . . here . . . are to the political atmosphere of our times." We must all cultivate that awareness and perception to make the right decisions and to avoid tragic mistakes. As you become increasingly mature, may such wisdom be yours.

DEDICATION

We, the class of 1951, dedicate this book to Mr. Schwing for the great job he has done in guiding us through our high school career.

We are especially indebted to Mr. Schwing for what he has done for us in order that we might have our senior activities, despite the non-extra curricular activities program. Through his tireless efforts we have kept one thing which we cherish and look forward to most—our Senior Prom.

Best Wishes
Merritt F. Schwing

Senior Poem

Many years ago with quaking fear I entered T.H.S.
The future lay before me, and the seniors too, I guess.
Initiation swallowed me, and I had lots of fun.
Although my knees were well worn out before the day'd begun.

And then I was a sophomore—that year went very fast.
Who worries 'bout the future when they've yet to find the past?
The freshies were amusing to my wisdom-clouded eye—
We were never quite so silly in those freshman days gone by.

As a junior I discovered that soon I'd graduate,
But those plans for the future still had a year to wait.
I'd be a doctor, or a journalist, or if worse come to worse
I could always be a genius, and explorer or a nurse.

Oh, the future from a Senior's view was wonderful and sweet,
I saw the monarchs of the future drop their sceptres at my feet.
Plainly marked was my pathway from the spot on which I stood.
If I couldn't rise on Broadway, I'd star in Hollywood.

Oh, pity then that senior full of visions long ago
Her star was struck to earth by a devastating blow,
I married a boy whose dreams were just like mine,
Now he works in S.S. White's to support our children nine.

Class Will-January, 1951

I, Dick Ainsworth, will to the incoming Freshmen the ability to pass the Biology Regents without studying.

We, Lois Alexander and Belle Seguine, leave to Shirley Matthes the ability to cope with Miss Muntz without our able support and, to our teachers, thanks for making it possible for us to have lunch together for the past three years.

I, Thelma Andersen, will to my sister Dorene the privilege of graduating in 3½ years as I have done.

I, Robert Biller, will to all future managers of the Collegiate Party the ability to keep all the members happy and still get some work done.

I, Catherine Birmingham, will to anyone who wants it my lunch period in American History class.

I, Grace Brill, will to anyone who can find the patience, my seat at the desk in the library.

I, Shirley Brower, will to all the incoming Freshmen the ability to have as many good times as I have had in T.H.S.

We, Dorothy Bundesen and Betty Polhemus, will to Mr. Carroll office 226, after finding it quite useful for the past year and a half.

I, Roger Busing, will to my brother Bob, all the friends and fun I leave behind.

I, Robert Carlton, being of sound mind and body (so that's a sound???), leave to my niece, Pat Petty—one worn out Bunsen Burner Lighter at my table in Chem. Lab.—Boy did I have a hot time!

I, Cliff Danielsen, will to any English 8 student, the ability to fool around in Miss Koetat's room, and get away with it.

I, Michael Danielson, will to any fool who wants it, the job as Party Manager of Collegiate, and to my sister Holly, the good fortune to get Mr. Schwing as Grade Advisor.

I, Phyllis Davidson, will to my sister Ginny, the good fortune of having as many wonderful friends and teachers as I had in Tottenville.

I, Leta Diehl, will to my brother Robert, happiness in his remaining high school career.

I, Shirley Ellis, will to Mr. Fisler, a new secretary who will do as many things wrong as I have done and still laugh over it.

I, Joan Femenella, will to my sister Pat all my worn-down pencils and old sten-books, and to my brother Richard, my old roller skates so he can catch the bus in the morning.

I, Harold Fries, will to my brother Benjamin the fun and friends I had in Tottenville High School.

We, Connie Gardner and Katherine Jacobsen will to Pam Nordgren, a new arrival from Florida, a spoke in our "Big Wheel."

I, Albert Genzlinger, will to Mr. Collins a box of cigars.

I, Evelyn Green, will to my sister, Lorraine, the ability to leave home at 9:05 and still get to school on time as I have for the past four years.

I, Barbara Hayes, hereby will to my beloved brother and sister, Rocky and Betsy, all the remaining years of high school to suffer through without me.

I, Ann Hemming, will to Nancy Stieg and Peggy Deschaux the ability to stand on the corner and wait for the bus for one hour when there is snow on the ground.

I, Richie Henry, will to Larry Sullivan and "Rabbit" Mayhew one less head to help them decide whether they should go to classes or take the day off.

I, Howard Herbert, will to any trombone player the ability to play three parts at once and not get lost.

I, Jane Jenkins, will to any freshman the honor and pleasure of being in Euterps for four years under Mrs. Wilson's direction without being kicked out.

I, Joan Jenkins, will my sewing machine to any girl who can keep it under good control.

I, Marion Keber, will to Carol Lehman my desk in Miss Meyer's class. She will find three wads of gum and an old newspaper.

I, Stephen Kertesz, will to Andy and Don the ability to leave school with an "honorable" discharge.

I, James Kirby, will to my sister Kathleen, the ability to get out of bed at 8:30, wake up at 8:55, and get to school on time.

I, Joan Kubera, will to Dick McLaren a dictionary, so the words will be right the first time. Also, all my remaining paper bags.

I, Andrew Kutko, will my desk and seat in 8-2 to anyone who can get as far as I did in high school to sit in it.

I, Felix Lugo, will to my brother, Peter, the ability to get through high school without failing or getting left back.

I, Clara Martyka, will to Gloria Bischoff, the pleasure of riding to school in the front seat of her uncle's truck.

I, Miles McLeod, will to Jimmy and Calvin, the privilege of passing two terms of algebra in two years.

I, Marion Minarik, will to my sister Harriet, Olin Blair.

We, Frank Mooney and Oliver Simonsen, will to any ambitious freshman, the ability to stay up nights to see Dagmar on T.V., and still be wide awake for school the next day.

I, Mabel Moore, will to Norman Gilby and Richard Backof, the ability to walk around the school without a pass (and get away with it.)

I, Thomas Morrissey, leave (I hope).

I, Ellen Muoio, the last of the six Muoios, will to Peggy Dunlop and Marilyn Heerlein, the ability to get the 8 o'clock bus for 1A, have Economics the 8th period, and still stay awake.

I, Patrick Murphy, will my thanks and gratitude to the teachers, through whose efforts it was possible for me to graduate.

I, Jean O'Brien, will to any incoming Freshman member of the band the corner in 119 that meant so much to me.

I, Bob Odell, will Evelyn Folvig, the ability (and she has plenty of it) to get through four years of THS, and have as much fun as I did doing it.

I, Gloria O'Keefe, will to my sister Loretta, a future freshman, locker 635. Also the ability to do what you feel like in First Aid and still get along with Miss Jorgensen.

We, Anne Owen and Violet Kohn, do hereby will to any freshman, all the fun we had in the Collegiate Party.

I, James Palmer, will to Bob Nielsen my Eco. teacher. Good Luck.

I, Urban Pearson, will my troubles with Mrs. Drill to any one who is eligible.

I, Eleanor Pellikan, will to Angela LaRosa and Barbara Corson, a happy and successful term so I may see them graduate together in June.

I, Eugenia Prusak, will to my sister, Leonia, as much fun and success in her Senior Year of high school as I have had in mine.

I, Betty Ross, will to my teachers the other half of the Ross family. They're worse than I am, if possible.

I, Audrey Stryker, will to Lyn Daly as my twin brother Pete willed to me, the ability to have as much fun and friends in T.H.S. as I did.

I, Dorothy Tanner, will to anyone who wants them, Mrs. Reilly's ink eradicator, Miss Reuther's scissors and the bottom drawers of Mr. Schwing's and Mr. Mattei's desks.

I, Gloria Teixuro, will to all incoming freshmen, who are Dodger fans, the pleasure of having Miss Koetat for their English teacher.

I, Steve Timari, do not leave my will to anyone because I don't think anyone deserves what I did.

I, Virginia Tromba, will to the teachers of Tottenville High School my sister and brother. Here is hoping that they have just as much fun as I did. Also to Leonia Prusak I leave all the luck in the world and hope that she can get along with some of the teachers I couldn't and still pass.

I, Dick Vroome, will to the boys of the Pleasant Plains Hitchhiking Association my membership card and hope that they will use it as well as I did.

I, Dave Walz, of insane mind, will to Jerry Bracken, George Conser and Charles Kurtz, a half a brain among them.

I, Robert Washington, will my saxophone to anybody that likes to study hard.

I, Anna Wasilchak, will to Ellen Tull my copy of Hamlet and my seat in Dr. Smith's English.

I, Eleanor Wegener, will to any freshmen the ability to be as lucky as I have been not to be late nor absent for their four years in high school.

I, Evelyn Zilke, will to my fellow classmates the fond memories of a wonderful senior year. To all my teachers, a grateful "Thank you" for their patient guidance in my four years at Tottenville High.

FLAGPOLE SITTER FOR YANKEES

Dick Vroome started his ninth week as a flag pole sitter to express his feelings against the current losing streak of the New York Yankees. His only contact with the events going on is with his go-between Red Palmer. Red brings him his food, mail and baseball results every day. Dick says he is completely content on his perch although it is a little wet when it rains. He resolves to remain on the pole until the Yankees are in first place again. They are now in third place but they're slowly climbing to first place.

NOVELIST DOES IT AGAIN

Another novel has been written by Miss Nancy Ihnken, entitled FOREVER ROSEMARY. The book has been dedicated to Miss Rosemary Lombardo who has typed the complete manuscript in three hours, fourteen days.

TRIP TO UNKNOWN PLANET SCHEDULED

Miss Ann Hemming and Miss Eleanor Wegener are soliciting persons interested in exploring the unknown. They plan to discover an unknown planet between earth and Venus. Its whereabouts they cannot yet determine, due to the inefficiency of their materials valued at over two billion dollars.

Two of their co-workers, Misses Ellen Muoio and Dorothy Tanner, have been making startling discoveries about the Milky-Way. One evening when they were stargazing they discovered that the milk had gone sour. Miss Marion Minarik has discovered that the stars are not all white but change color as you look at them. She has noticed after ten years now that many are blue, green and even red in color.

FIRST WOMAN HOT-ROD RACER

Miss Virginia Tromba, a former T.H.S. student, rode "Car 41" to victory in the July 4th classic. She had to out-race fifty other male contenders to capture the trophy and the $10,000 purse. Ginny narrowly missed crashing into the wall at least ten times but fortunately missed each time. When asked for a comment after the race was over, Ginny said that now she is free to start on her life-long ambition. This is to circumscribe the globe in her racing car. She will start on it tomorrow and we wish her good luck.

CIRCUS CASUALTY

Another terrible accident occurred last week in the circus. One of the great jugglers, Lois "Fifi" Alexander, from that great juggling team, Fifi and Mimi, was seriously injured. It seems that Daniel Green, the handy boy, mixed a hard ball in with the soft balls. This ball in some strange manner hit Fifi on the head. She is still unconscious and is fortunate enough to have the famed Nurse Jean O'Brien hold ice cubes on the bump. In answer to our inquiry about her present condition, Nurse O'Brien said, "She's out cold." Joan Femenella, whose professional name is Mimi, has no comment to make at this time.

MISSING PERSONS

The renowned psychiatrist, Dr. Marion Keber, has now been missing for ten days down in the hills of Kentucky. Two days ago Gloria Teixuro and Betty Polhemus, famed aviatrixes, left New York in search of Dr. Keber. Miss Teixuro landed safely in a Kentucky air field but as yet Miss Polhemus has not been heard from. It is believed that she crashed into the top of Old Smokey. All these reports are uncomfirmed.

SEARCH FOR LOST EXPLORER

Michael Danielson, the second Frank Buck, has been lost for over three months in the dense jungles of South Africa. A searching party composed of several of Mr. D.'s friends was organized by Robert Biller. The party has started to look for Mike in the Sahara Desert. Mr. B. said, "Well, you know Mike! He's liable to turn up any place."

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Miss Phyllis Davidson has announced her betrothal and forthcoming marriage to Howard Herbert. The couple have been going steady for over ten years now and have finally decided that they were made for each other.

CELEBRITIES MINGLE IN FORMALLY

Sir David Waltz (of the (Chisholm Waltz's) entertained many of the celebrated aristocrats of New York at his Long Acre Estate. Among them was the noted Miss Belle Seguine. While there she was wined and dined (at her preference.)

Also seen there was Robert Washington, the well-known author and playwright.

Playboy Stephen Timari was glimpsed flitting in and out with a luscious brownette on his arm. Later it was disclosed that this brownette was none other than M.G.M. Star Miss Betty Ross.

MODEL CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY

Miss Kay Birmingham, the famous model from the Leta Diehl Modeling Studio, has just celebrated her first anniversary as a model. Miss Birmingham plans on working for another year before celebrating her second anniversary.

VIDEO STAR BACK

Clifford "Uncle Cliffy" Danielsen has returned to his three-hour TV show on Tuesday nights. He brought back the ancient jokes he has been using for the last five years along with some new ones that he recently stole from other comedians. As guest stars he had the famous gorilla acrobatic team of Spotty, Mickey, and Duchess. They performed their stellar act of swinging from rafter to rafter on the ceiling while bellowing at the top of their lungs. The only casualty of this act was the cameraman who got seasick while following the swinging from rafter to rafter to rafter.

Another guest star was the famous operatic star Joan Jenkins. She sang her renowned version of "Frankie and Johnny." Of course Uncle Cliffy had to get into the act by donning an Apache dress and strutting across the stage. He closed the show with his customary saying to all his little nieces and nephews.

FIRST WOMAN PITCHER

Gloria "Slugger" O'Keefe became the first woman ever to play in the majors today when she pitched for the Brooklyn Dodgers. The score was 5 to 1 in favor of the Giants when Slugger was waved in.

Miss O'Keefe is a graduate of Tottenville High School and of Cortland State Teachers College. She is a qualified Health Ed. teacher and has taught for a number of years at her former high school. When asked why she left the teaching profession, Miss O'Keefe replied that as it was too dangerous she decided to play baseball for the Dodgers. This team has always been her favorite and she has always rooted for it even when the going was rough (which was pretty often).

SINGER MAKES GOOD

Miss Jane Jenkins, alias Lenah Hone, has made her debut on the television show, Ray Prol Talent Show. Miss Jenkins is now on her way to success and the best of luck to her.

NEW STYLES FOR MEN

Monsieur Harold Fries, the well-known designer of men's clothes, has come to New York with some new designs for this year. One of his new designs is a zebra striped suit with purple and fuchia stripes. Monsieur Fries was accompanied by his private secretary, Marion Reeves, who announced that the first showing of the new designs will be at the Waldorf Astoria on June 1. Everyone is invited to this showing of what the well-dressed man will wear in 1960.

POET LAUREATE HONORED

While touring through Europe, James Kirby stopped for a short time in London, England. While there King Daniel Green endowed Sir Kirby with the Poet Laureate. This great honor was bestowed upon him for his great contribution to the Literary world, "Love Lyrics." This Book includes all his works, even those started in his English classes while at Tottenville High School.

DRAFT STARTED AGAIN

"Since it seems likely that there will be another shortage of manpower, women are to be drafted into the armed forces," was the statement released by General Dorothy Bundesen today. General Shirley Ellis, who is in charge of the Home Defense, added that the women draftees will naturally see action in the front lines. She believes that after the enemy realizes that there are women on the front lines they will take to cover and give up.

McLEOD FOUND

Tom Morrissey, a reporter for the Staten Island Advance, has returned from Pago Pago with the startling news that he has found Miles McLeod. All of you know that Miles is the well-known adventurer and discoverer. Last year Miles set out to learn the customs and habits of the people of Pago Pago and no news was heard of him since January. Tom undertook the job of tracking him down because of the story involved. Last May he found Miles in the heart of Pago Pago playing Canasta with his six wives.

AUTO ACCIDENT ON MAIN ST., TOTTENVILLE

Today, Tuesday, Jan. 10, 1970, at 11:52½, there was a lot of excitement on Main Street, Tottenville. The car, driven by Miss Kay Jacobsen (a woman driver again), ran into a telephone pole which, when it fell, hit Miss Barbara Hayes, a by-stander, on the head. The police were right on hand, as usual. Patrolman Dick Ainsworth, came rushing up to Miss Hayes and asked what happened. She replied, "I was hit on the head by a toothpick." At this moment the little woman in the white suit, Miss Evelyn Green, arrived to carry her away.

T.H.S. STUDENT LEVELS OCEANS

It was released yesterday in the Scientific Journal of the World that after 20 years of concentrated effort, the two oceans were made level, making it possible for canals to be made easily. As soon as Mr. Carlton graduated from Tottenville High School he began his work. He worked constantly trying to find a way to make them level by a scientific and easy mechanical manner. He finally had to bring the extra water by bucketfuls from the higher ocean to the other one. Mr. Carlton probably will receive the Nobel Prize award for his great contribution to the progress of the world.

THE ALUMNI WINNER OF AWARD

The Misses Eleanor Pellikan and Shirley Brower, co-authors of the best seller, "How to Lose Friends and Hate People," were feted at the social held at the home of Miss Joan Kubera.

The well-known book critic Oliver Simonson was asked his opinion of the book. He replied politely, "It Stinks."

SECRETARY GETS PROMOTION

Miss Audrey Stryker, who works for the S. I. Oil Co., has been promoted to the position of private secretary. Her boss is none other than Richard Henry.

ROBERT WALKER

To a swell guy and
Best of luck, a good
Bill Stanky)

Class Will-June, 1951

I, Harold Ahlin, will to some Freshman, the Radio Department of Room C11 and all unfinished Projects that go with it.

I, Barbara Anderson, will to Jean Bridge and Lois Hudson, all the fun I had in the Cafeteria 5th period.

I, Frank Aue, will to Joe Poalino, the power to have 10 terms of Machine Shop and still pass them all.

I, Eileen Austin, will to Gerry Schaefer my standing room on the 116.

I, Joan Austin, leave Mr. Carroll to Gerry Schafer. And the rest of the men teachers to my sister, Margie and to Peggy Nielsen, Jr.

I, Marilyn Bochilo, will to the secretaries in office 131 much use from the desk drawers.

I, Mary Ellen Bochino, will the incoming Freshman to Miss Lisanti.

I, Bill Bogaerts, do hereby will to Bert Morenz, two more years of playing snare drum in the T. H. S. Band, and to all mathematicians, the ability to understand Mr. Carroll.

I, Alan Bailey (being of sound mind and body), will, to anyone foolish enough to accept it, my many incurred duties, responsibilities, privileges and old excused late passes.

I, Peggie Dunlop, will to Mr. Halloran, my unusual Chemistry books and all the fun I had in Chemistry.

I, Charles Haughton, will to Mrs. Wilson a trumpet section of little freshmen.

I, Leona Haught, will to my sister Jane and Caroline Werthmuller, Mr. Estlow, my Reg. and American History teacher. May they enjoy him as much as I did (during register).

I, Calvin Brown, will to my two brothers, Teddy and Leslie the ability to go through school without all the trouble and misunderstanding with the teachers, that I've had???

I, Ethel Brown, will to the remaining "Six Saints" Carlyn Young, E. C. Bischoff, Gail Woll, the honor of having Olin Blair pester the life out of you, while working in Office 125.

I, Frederick Becker, will to my brother Thomas my favorite carving knife so he can carry on a tradition. I also will him my coveralls so he can get them washed and mended so he can use them for four years.

I, Richard Beck, will to any Mount Loretto student the ability to go through high school in four years.

We, June Benedict and Bessie Sauss, leave to our sisters, Hope and Joyce and to our friend Bob Migley, the art of getting out of classes and not getting caught as we didn't.

I, John Bensen, will to any freshman machinist the ability to sweat through a machine shop exam, and laugh when he hears his foul mark.

I, Shirley Matthes, will to all future American History One students the ability to pass the course and still have fun writing names in their books and dreaming during class time. Remember the object is to pass.

I, Harry Kern, will to any Freshman the ability to chew gum in Miss Sklair's English class and not get caught.

I, Steve Kertesz, will to the "Baiggs" the power to get out of school successfully.

I, Shirley Kilkes, will to Gloria Fithian the corner of Amboy Road and Brehaut Avenue where we met every morning on the way to school.

I, Dorothy Knudsen, will to all incoming freshmen the luck to have Miss Sklair, one of the finest teachers I have ever met, of English.

I, John Kurowski, will to all Mount Loretto students the ability to do well in T.H.S. and graduate in four years.

I, Angela La Rosa, will to Larry Wilson the ability to study, but still have lots of fun, and hurry to get out of high school.

I, Ronald Larsen, will to the next drummer in the band my place in the drum section and all the wisecracks received in my three years there.

I, Rosemary Lombardo, will to my sister, Joanne, the ability to pass all her subjects.

I, John Lovas, will to my brother Bob a pack of Camels so that he may become a doctor.

I, Carolyn Mason, will to my incoming freshman sister the ability to go through school the way I did.

I, Anthony Mazzella, will to any incoming freshman the ability to take all of Mr. Caballero's gab.

I, John McCracken, will to my brother Tom, "The Thing," so he can pass the Spanish Regents with a mark over 80.

I, James McKay, being of a fairly sound mind, do hereby make my last will and testament to Skippy. I leave my seat in the 8th term register which I hope he'll occupy some day; to Dick I leave the Euterpian Society with all its fun and Mrs. Wilson's glare; to dear old T.H.S. I leave.

I, Laura Moroni, will to Lois Hudson and Gerry Ozgar the ability to have all the good times in high school as I have had. Also to my many teachers very many thanks for their guidance and help that they have given me.

I, Robert Nielsen, will to my brother Howard Nielsen the right to have Miss Sklair as an English teacher and pass.

I, Janet Nielsen, will to my bosom pals Alice, Arlere, Leonia and Diane the ability to get through the rest of high school without me. (I know they can.)

I, Peg Nielsen, will the study hall to Daisy Bodoky and my gym locker to "Bubbles" De Closs, Good Luck, Kids.

I, Peggy O'Shea, will, to Olin Blair, Ed Powick, John Stauff, and Russel Lang, the ability to stay on their marshal posts for the remaining years in T.H.S.?

I, Joan Parsons, will to Bob Arnold, the ability to lose his books during the term and then, at the last minute, find them, as I did.

I, Richard Pecoraro, will to my brother and sister lots of luck during high school and after.

I, Harold Pedersen, will leave, with pleasure.

I, Alma Quigley, leave to anyone that might want them, my gym suit and sneakers. May they have all the fun I had wearing them.

I, Carol Reis, being of reasonably sound mind and body, will to Ellen, Jane and Franie, a delightful term in T.H.S. without me, to Miss Koetat a whole year without a Reis in Tottenville, and Dr. Smith—thanks for all the guidance and assistance she has given me in T.H.S.

We, Pat Moran and Nancy Ryan, will, to Miss Lisanti, the ability to gain two secretaries that will work for her?????

I, Robert Saberg, will to any Freshman the ability to pass 3 years of French and make a career of it as I did in becoming a chef in T.H.S. (L'homme qui parle francais dans la cuisine quand l'Faire la cuisine.)

I, Jon Sem, will to my sister Anne Marie the pleasure of taking and passing Trigonometry with 90%.

I, William Siersema, being of sound mind and body, will all my past debts incurred in the cafeteria to Gordan Jacobsen.

I, Peggy Skinner, will to my sister Regina, my gym suit, which she wore more than I did.

I, Anastasia Smith, will to Nancy Cossean, a new buddy to walk to school with and to buy her an apple every day.

I, Patricia Spratlin, will, to my brother Richard, the ability to work on the lab. squad just one term without dropping something.

I, Catherine Stafford, will to Dickie Deagan the ability to walk through the halls and not call anyone else.

I, Ernie Stankovics, will to Yvonne Langford as many friends as I have had in Tottenville High.

I, Ellen Tull, will to my little sister Carlyn the ability to understand and appreciate one of the sweetest teachers in the school, Miss Koegl . . . and to Barbara Sohn all my many college catalogues from which I chose Wagner, after much toil.

I, Marilyn Unger, will to anyone the ability to do homework and to watch television at the same time.

We, Elaria Sorby and Lauretta Wood, will to Carol Sorby and Arthur Wood, the ability to make and keep friends as we have in their four years in T.H.S.

I, Joan Gunther, will to Miss Porter for English 2A and 3A, my brother Jim, and incoming freshmen. Perhaps you can teach him to put in apostrophies, too.

I, Paul Geidel, will to Eugene Shea the "torture" of staying in high school another 6 months.

I, Casiano Garcia, will, to Vivian Pennino and Ann Garcia, the power to get through high school.

I, John Fox, will, to anybody, anything.

I, Richard Ekstrand, will, to my friends in the lower terms, my high marks throughout the years. Ha! Ha!

I, Claire Dobo, will my whistle, to any girl who has the nerve to use it.

We, Carole Dilgard and Georgia Dennis, will to any incoming freshman the ability to remain true friends for four years as we have done.

I, Raymond Diaz, leave.

I, Helen De Fusco, will to Marie Del Grosso and Elizabeth Horvath the ability to eat lunch, do American History and gossip about him and still pass as I did.

I, Barbara Corson, will to Nancy and Yvonne the ability to get to school on time on THAT 103 bus.

I, Virginia Blackwell, will to Georgia Mae Bonner, Loretta Blackwell and my niece, Priscilla Henry, my brown eyes, generous ways and four years in Tottenville High School.

I, George Bille, will to Don Richards and Andy Mazureck the "fun"? of getting up in the morning and going to school, especially Monday morning.

I, Ruth Heins, will to my cousin, Don Lewis all the fun I had in T.H.S.

I, Nancy Ihnken, will to Louise Thomas and Malvina Baltrukouitz the pleasure of riding to school on the Rapid Transit for the next four years.

I, Diane Kain, being of sound mind and body (I think) after four years, will to any poor freshman, the ability to pass three years of French.

I, Lorraine Kent, being of almost sane mind, will to my sister Carole my place in the band and all the wrong notes that go with it.

ADVICE TO THE LOVELORN

by Peggy Dunlop

Dear Aunt Peggy:

After receiving your advice as to mending my heart, I find that I've gotten nowhere fast. I have just returned from my boy-friend's funeral. I'm heart-broken. He died all of a sudden the other night from the cake you told me to bake. Now I think I have a new beau—the undertaker who buried poor Joe. What I wanted to know is—should I give him a cake, too—also—where can I buy Aunt Peggy's Candy? I couldn't get it anywhere. Please help mend my broken heart and hook that undertaker.

Please—I'm desperate!

Sincerely,

M. E. Bochino

Dear M. E.:

You were extremely wise not to use your first name as you might be recognized, I recall your past letter and remember sending my advice. You recall I said, "Feed your man lots of cake. If it doesn't work, arsenic you take."

Then I told you, if arsenic doesn't work, Aunt Peggy's Candy will! Through some error, my letter was printed as follows: "Feeding your man lots of arsenic, baked in a cake, it's a very cute trick." We all make mistakes —never despair, my dear.

Sincerely,

Aunt Peggy

ATTENTION, STOCK CAR RACERS!!!

Public Friend No. One, Walter Hatton, stock car magnate, today announced his donation of two millions of his countless millions to the establishment of the Hatton School of Mechanics and Stock Car Racing. He attributes his success financially to these vocations.

THEATRE NEWS

The opening of the new vaudeville show, Old Timer's Revue, was proclaimed a success last night after the appearance of two comedians, Mike and Bill, known in private life as Michael McCormick and William Siersema. Their act consisted of such new jokes as, "Why did the chicken cross the road, to get to the other side," and some renditions of the favorite songs such as "Goodnight Irene," which they are planning to revive.

When asked after the show about their great success, they for the present. McKay, who was the first man to set foot on the Moon, started on his trip to Mars said that they owed it all to their friend and manager, Wild Bill Burns, who, they say, taught them all they know among literary circles for his novel, "How to Graduate and Like It."

A GREAT DAY FOR THE IRISH

Courageous nurse, Nancy Ryan, was recently accredited for saving the lives of three women missionaries, Lorraine Kent, Marilyn Unger, Carol Reis. The missionaries, Miss Kent, head missioner; Miss Unger, head missionist; and Miss Reis, head missionister of the Bail Saffi, in deep Africa, were captured by the Bombo-Trombone Trive last Tuesday.

Nurse Ryan bravely trailed the missionaries to the tribe headquarters where Chief Polo-Rolo Popiniff found it a fair bargain to swap his captives for a carton of Carter's Little Silver Pills. All four women are resting comfortably in Hayview Sanatorium.

STORE OWNER MAKES SAD DISCOVERY

The new owner of the chain of Woolworthless Five & Dime stores, Patricia Spratlin, has just made the shocking and sad discovery that nothing in her stores costs five or ten cents. She intends to do something about it, when she untangles herself from the ribbons on the new ribbon counter in her Great Kills store. She claims she is making progress, but her hands are still tied.

BAILEY BLOWS TOP OF MODERN SCIENCE

Mr. Alan Bailey, of the Ahlin-Bailey Science Foundation, has, this week, astounded Modern Science with his accurate theories on the habits and peculiarities of Chemistry. His partner, Harold Ahlin, received a severe shock, not only from Mr. Bailey's theories, but also from his rumored fiancee, Roller Derby star Pat Moran, "Murph," who shocked him through the electric personality in her hair. Ahlin is famous, also, for the theories but his are on Staten Island electricity.

RESIGNATION ACCEPTED?

Miss Joan Gunther, gun moll of Martin Stallone, announced today that she was handing in her resignation. Mr. Stallone, who is head of the "Bookie Association of T.H.S.," has different ideas. He has just written a letter to Miss Gunther offering her a raise

A MILLION OR NOTHING

That Rootin' Tootin' blues singer, Ginny Blackwell, is at it again. Ginny, alias "Sugar Pie," wants a million dollars from the Higsby, Higsby, and Higsby Jr. Recording Company for a contract they have proposed to her. The contract calls for Ginny to sing the seventeenth verse of Rachmaninoff's Eleventh Symphony. Ginny says, "That would be just wonderful." They want her to sing it from atop the flag pole on the Empire State Building at 11:30 A.M. on the fourth of July. She said the whole thing is utterly absurd. She never rises until 12:30 P.M.

THEY'RE FOR-EVER BLOWING BUBBLES

The Misses Peggy "Shrimp" Skinner and Joyce "Trouser-Loving" Russell have just made their debut at "Oscar's Pickled Paradise." The Misses Skinner and Russell, former students of T.H.S., have completed their professional courses in the "Art of Bubble Dancing," and they are now making the most of it.

MAYOR SPEAKS AT GRAND OPENING OF SPORTS GOODS SHOP

Opening next Thursday in Tott. is a new Sport Shop. The owner and manager, Calvin Brown, was honored with a visit and recitation from the mayor, Richard Beck. Included among the guest speakers was Police Commissioner Fred Becker, who thanked Brown, on behalf of the police force, for the leopard shirt he so generously donated.

MAHARAJAHA PAYS VISIT TO UNITED STATES

The rich Maharajaha, John Litz of Nemko, arrived last night on the steamship America. When asked what he thought of the U.S. all he could say was "AAAA ???? !!!! ,,,, ::::. He expects to be weighed in gold and jewels within the next few days. His chief counsellor and friend is Sire Richard Pecoraro, who pays all the Maharajaha's debts with diamond and ruby teeth.

DIANE KAIN MAKES DEBUT

Miss Diane Kain of 900 Spark Ave. made her debut last night at the Pork Club. She is a graduate of Tottenville High School and Bellevue Finishing School. Just between us, they did a very good job of finishing her.

HARVEST MOON WINNER OPENS SCHOOL

Staten Island, N. Y.—Monday will be a big day for all on the Island. It will bring the grand opening of the HAUGHTON DANCING SCHOOL. Charley Haughton, founder of the school, will teach the rhumba. When asked why he would teach the rhumba only, Charley said, "This comes naturally to a man because of his masculine swinging hips." His female instructor will be the Broadway star, Miss Barbara Deschau. During the grand opening party on Monday, Miss Deschau will perform her famous routine of, "I'm Forever Blowing Bubbles." Mr. Haughton has won the Harvest Moon Dance competition 30 times in succession. The school is expected to be a great success.

RICHARD THE "LION-HEARTED" RETURNS

When asked by the press for a comment, he replied, "Aw gee whiz, it 'tweren't nothin'."

QUIGS DO IT AGAIN

Last night at the Tottenville Arena the little Quigs did it again! They were victorious by a score of 98-1. Their opponents, Bob and all the little Nielsens, went home with very sad faces. Alma Quigley was high scorer for the Quigs with 95 points. After the game, Alma was asked how she managed to be so outstanding. She replied, blushing, "Aw that ain't nothin'. You should see me when I'm in condition."

JOCKIES OPEN GATEWAY

A new race track, "The Gooey Gateway," has just been opened up by the two famous jockeys, Georgia Dennis and Carole Dilgard. Such fine race horses as Icky and Sticky will race there.

Shortly after this had been reported, the prospective owners announced that in the winter the track shall be flooded and there would be horse racing on skates.

FAMOUS FRENCH ACTRESS IN TOTTENVILLE

Babsy Deschaux, well known French actress, is now staying at the Greasy Towel Hotel, in Tottenville. Rumor about a romance between Miss Deschaux and William "Humphrey" Bogarts whom she recently co-starred with in "Gooey Kisses," were verified today when they were caught holding hands in the Stadium's balcony.

FOX, ENGINEERED BY TONY, WILL FIGHT FIRES

Commissioner John Fox, former chewing gum king, disclosed his intentions to stick to his new position as chief of the New York City Fire Department. His co-chief, Anthony Mazzella, who won fame by his ingenious engineering contraptions for which, he explains, "There are no engineering needs," told this reporter that the only reason why they both would enjoy their jobs so much is because they always wanted to be firemen when they were young.

FIRST WOMAN PRESIDENT OF UNITED STATES

EXTRA, EXTRA! Something new and pretty has been added to the history of the U.S. Today the first woman president was unanimously elected. She is none other than the incomparable Marylou Matthews. President Matthews passed her first law four hours after election. The new law states that all subway, bus and trolley car windows must have curtains. Anyone found handling the curtains will be placed under arrest, then declared next week to be National Curb Polishing week. She insists that all curbs and sewers must be cleaned and polished with glass wax. They will all be inspected by the V.I.P. Bill Bogarts. The V.I.P. backed up the president's actions by stating, "It's about time someone did something about cleaning up the sewers in this country."

ANOTHER ROLLER RINK FOR STATEN ISLAND ANNOUNCED!

Plans for the building of a new Roller Skating Arena have been announced by the famous corporation of Wood, Sauss, and Benedict. The plans for decorating the building's interior are still being worked on by the great Sorby. The plans were held up for some time when an attorney found that the above company intended to build their arena on the site where the Staten Island Rolladium is now located. However, the situation is well in hand, and the building is to be erected on the outskirts of the city of Tottenville.

BIEL VS. HEERLEIN

A conference is being held at the Billop House in Tottenville for the first time in 175 years. The Board of Elders is trying to decide whether Harry Biel is innocent or guilty for the serious heart attack of Marilyn Heerlein. This was brought about by the fact that Mr. Biel was wearing blue and white striped slacks instead of his usual levis. Miss Heerlein, an assistant in the teaching of the new "Cootie Exterminating Dept. at T.H.S., is recovering in Richmond Memorial Slaughter House.

MOVIE QUEEN VISITS TOTTENVILLE

For the first time in two years Tottenville had the pleasure of having Shirley Temple Kilkes on stage. For the past week the young starlet had been appearing nightly behind the footlights of the stage in the Stadium Playhouse.

Miss Kilkes in her short movie career of six months has won two Oscarettes, one for the leading performance in Joe Blow from the Windy City.

SINGER TO MAKE DEBUT IN HOME TOWN

The famous alto singer, Miss Ethel Brown, is going to make a personal appearance in Legion Hall. She will sing some selections from the hit opera, "Life of a Swordfish," by Barbara Corson. The alto part will be rendered by Miss Brown, but there will be no soprano part due to the fact that Miss Corson has not yet completed writing it.

CAFE WILL OPEN IN TOTTENVILLE

Opening up a new cafe in town are the Misses Mason and Moroni. Miss Mason announced today that the name would be the "The Soupbone Cafe" and that well-known chef, Douglas Clark, would cook there.

Miss Moroni stated at a press interview that the Honorable Steve Kertecz, Governor of Tottenville, would cut the ribbon on August 15, 1981.

OPERA OPENING

The grand opening of "Ollie's Opera House" took place last night. Ollie's new star, Miss Helen "Tonsil" De Fusco was O.K. (O.K.—off key). Still in all they loved her and she'll be back next year in "EEK! A MOUSE."

TODAY'S SPORTS STAR

Baseball was pushed to greater heights today when Johnny Kurowski, star second sacker for the New York Yankees, smashed six home runs in yesterday's afternoon game against the Cleveland Injuns. Although he made five errors in fielding, his homers will put him in the Baseball Hall of Fame.

The pitcher Kurowski got his homers from was the Injuns best hurler, Johnny "Scotchman" McCracken, who was very put out by the sixth homer. Johnny "Scotchman," one of the most outspoken men in baseball, told the reporters that he wasn't worried about five, they were all in a day's work, but the sixth really affected his pitching pride.

GOSSIP CORNER

It's been said by various people that Louella Parsons could outtalk anyone! Last night Louella lost her title. It seems that she and Juke Box Ellen Tull had a three-round gab session. At the end of two rounds, Louella passed out leaving Ellen still talking. She continued to talk until her assistant and second, Richard Riley, carried her out. She now holds the title of World Champion Talker.

A Christmas Story

It was a cold and bitter night, the snow was falling heavily as a little boy trudged wearily down the street. All around him people were bustling about, finishing their last minute shopping or shouting a greeting to a friend. Over the rush of the crowd could be heard the chimes softly playing: "Silent Night, Holy Night," letting you know it was Christmas. Yes, Christmas was here at last, and a little boy stopped by a store and looked in through the window at the beautiful, bright new toys. He was imagining himself in a big room, with a Christmas tree, and under the Christmas tree were packages, dozens of packages, all gayly wrapped in shining red ribbon, and on the tag was marked—"To Joey on Christmas." Yes, it was fun to dream, dream about a Merry Christmas. His thoughts were suddenly shattered as a gay group came laughing by and shoved little Joey aside. Joey picked himself up.

"Oh how I hate Christmas," he cried with tears running down his face. His mother and father had both been killed in a plane crash three years before and it left little Joey an orphan at the age of six. He thought about the orphanage from which he had escaped. He didn't like the orphanage; he always though it was a place for children whose parents didn't want them. Ever since he first came to the orphanage, he had hated it. He had never felt at home there and had never made many friends.

While he was standing there he felt someone tap him on his shoulder and say, "Merry Christmas, son." Turning, he saw a man who appeared to be middle-aged. He had on a shabby blue coat, his shoes were badly sodden from the weather, on his head was a battered hat which looked like it had been worn out several times. Clinging to this arm was a little girl about Joey's age who was dressed as shabbily as the man. As Joey was about to shout at the man and tell him he hated Christmas, he noticed something about the little girl, who now was tugging at the man's arm saying, "Who is it Grandpa, who is it?" "It is a little boy," the man replied, "I've just wished him a Merry Christmas."

It was then that Joey realized that the little girl was blind. Ashamed, Joey blurted out a weak Merry Christmas, and as they passed him Joey heard the little girl exclaim with delight about the music and the gay noise all around her. Joey imagined himself in her shoes and shuddered. It seemed in that minute Joey grew up. He had been feeling sorry for himself, never thinking about other people. Now he knew that he was just being selfish. He realized that Christmas was the time of forgetting your sorrows, and to stop running away. Running away wasn't going to solve anything. Christmas was the time to give, not look to receive, and also for making others happy.

"Well," thought Joey, "this is a Merry Christmas after all," and with those thoughts in his mind and a smile on his lips, Joey turned swiftly and marched happily back to the orphanage.

The United Nations

These days we are all told to respect and appreciate the United Nations. A little task like this is nothing at all for me. I have the United Nations in my blood. Or, at least, I have the blood of the United Nations in me.

I've got English in me. The English are said to be slow to get a joke. This is utterly absurd. One day in a History class a boy spoke as follows: "Most of the houses in France are made of Plaster of Paris." The whole class, of course, except me, roared with laughter. I can't see anything funny in the situation. The boy's ignorance is deplorable—not amusing. I've heard people tell me I don't smile. I don't smile because I don't laugh. I didn't laugh because I'm still waiting to hear a joke that's funny.

I have Scotch in me. The Scotch are supposed to be penny-pinchers. This is ridiculous. I've never heard anything so outrageous in my life. Perhaps I do use a crook-resistant, burglar-proof padlock on my wallet—and perhaps I do bake biscuits to use as Christmas presents for the hockey team every year—simply proof of the sensible saving and flair for economy which is a virtue of the Scottish people.

I've got Spanish in me. The Spaniards are said to be adept dancers. This is something with which I heartly agree. Just look at all the boys I've danced with—there isn't more than one with a cast still on his foot. There's only one thing that worries me—I wonder why my dance partners so often wear combat boots and shin guards?

The German in me is something of which I am exceptionally proud. And the claim that the Germans are stubborn is about the silliest one yet. I'm a typical German. I've never been known to reverse a decision in my life. I still think that my definition of glycerine as a vicious liquid which is miserable in water in all proportions is better than any old stuffy Chemistry book. We simply have confidence in our infallibility and absolute conviction that we are right but this is no indication that we Germans are stubborn.

Oi'm after havin' Oirish in me too. And judgin' by the likes of me—we Oirish haven't got the temper we're supposed to have. And the next time one of you //"#%$ claims we've a temper, Oi'll gie ye the back o'me hand so fast ye won't know what happened.

One of these days, I plan on setting up my private United Nations. When I disagree with myself—I've always got the veto. When the Scotch in me refuses to appropriate money, the German gets stubborn about a concession to be made, the Irish loses its temper, and the Spanish is over in a far corner doing the fandango—I can always rely on the English to ask—"Blast it all, old chaps, I really don't see just what the trouble is. Would you bully fellows sit down and explain the bloody thing to me?"

CAROL REIS

Music Department History

The house lights dim, the conductor's baton is poised, and a hush falls upon the audience as the first strains of Shubert's "Unfinished Symphony" are heard. The world famous New York Philharmonic Orchestra, you say? No, it isn't the Philharmonic, nor for that matter, the N.B.C. Symphony Orchestra nor the Goldman Band. As you have guessed by now, we are talking about what we believe to be one of the finest musical organizations of its kind, The Tottenville High School Band under the baton of its accomplished maestro, Mrs. Lala Wilson.

Our band was organized in 1937 and gave its first performance at the Christmas assembly of that year. It began playing at graduations, and beginning at the commencement of World War Two, it set out on an intensive wartime program. It played at most of the war monument dedication ceremonies on the South Shore. Since most members of the bands which customarily marched in the national parades were gone, the Tottenville High School Band volunteered its services. In the interest of public moral it cooperated with the American Legion and participated in several of their performances. It continued with its annual and semi-annual evening concerts along with the graduation ceremonies and assemblies. Later on it commenced to play at the May Day fete at Clove Lake. In 1948, it played a major part in the successes of the Golden Jubilee. Later, in 1950, the band played and made possible another tremendous success, "The Womanless Wedding."

As these last four years have passed we have seen our fellow band member gradually leave and new members gradually take their places and we reminisce over these wonderful fruitful years we have spent in our "Band of Bands" which has been made possible only through the untiring efforts of our own Mrs. Lala Wilson. Her devotion to her band and her "kids" has made all of our successes as triumphant as they are.

Everything worth having has a beginning and our Euterpean Society had its beginning way back in 1937, with Mrs. Wilson as its progenitor.

When Mrs. Wilson first arrived on the scene, Tottenville High boasted of a rather large and loud glee club. Large—because it consisted of a hundred or more members and with this many members I imagine that it was loud! However, some of this group along with Mrs. Wilson agreed, that with a smaller group they would be able to concentrate and present a finer type of music. With this idea in mind, a new club, consisting of about 20 members, was formed. A club founded for good music and founded upon hard work. Believe me, hard work it was; especially for its director, Mrs. Wilson.

With the formation of this new club, a new and fitting name had to be found. After much thought, quite a bit of discussion, and innumerable suggestions, it was finally agreed that the name "Euterpean Society" was both fitting and proper. Why that name? What does it mean? In Greek Mythology we learned that the "Goddess of Arts and Science" was named "Muse." The word music is derived from this Greek word muse. Euterpi was one of the arts and sciences, specifically "Goddess of Song." So much for the word Euterpean, now let's turn to the dictionary and look up the word society. "Society: a body of persons united for the promotion of some object."

Now that we know how Euterps got started and how it received its name, let us take a look at some of their productions.

The premier performance was a musical reception held in the music room before a select group of friends and relatives. It was indeed a very swanky affair. All the decorations were in gold and white; the Society's colors. The flowers were gold and white with a gold and white cake served for refreshment. From this rather small but inspirational beginning we have gone on to bigger and better things. With the aid of our leader, the indefatigable Mrs. Wilson, we have presented "Mikado," "H. M. S. Pinafore," "Trial by Jury," "Pirates of Penzance," "Princess Ida," "Golden Jubilee Celebration" and most recently "The Womanless Wedding."

The Euterps also perform at every commencement exercise, at which time we lose a certain percentage of our members. Older members go out of school into their chosen field or profession never forgetting the memorable days spent in the Euterps Society. New members come in to replace the old as the Society progresses onward . . . onward to a world brought closer to good music through the untiring efforts of our beloved director and the cooperation of the Society members.

Two Nickels and a Ticket Stub

Today my mother told me to clean out the pockets of my red corduroy jacket.

"I'll send it to the cleaner's before school begins," she said, to the waiting laundry man.

Usually I find exciting things in my pockets—old letters, school passes, a bunch of tired peanuts, and occasionally a forgotten handkerchief. But this time I found two nickels and a movie ticket stub. I began to think, when did I leave these? So I imagined what might have happened with them.

Of course, the ticket was to our nondescript place of entertainment (palatial in a small town way) called the "Stadium." The two nickels were definitely the change. A double feature costs forty cents, most always. But the ticket lady always gives dimes in change. I began to weave a dramatic story behind the two nickels and the ticket stub.

Mary Lou was a senior in high school, Pleasant Dale High. She had a quiet nature and even though she was a very pretty girl, she didn't go out very much except with a crowd of girls who were her "gals." All of them had running crushes on the new senior boy, or Mr. Anderson, their history teacher, the same people on whom girls usually have crushes. (This isn't a very unusual story.) But Mary Lou was a little different from her friends. She had absolutely, definitely, positively, surely fallen in love with the Greatest Senior in P.D.H.S.! He was, namely, Gene Norman, who was deeply tanned all year 'round and could dance, so Mary Lou had been told, like a dream. Oh, how she longed for him to speak to her or nod to her. Either would have made her slightly ecstatic in reels of unconfined joy. She could see herself dancing with Gene Norman, laughing with him, talking with him.

In most stories, the heroine has her fling with the hero, so I cannot resist letting Mary Lou have hers. Besides, the story would be flat without it.

Well, Mary Lou got her chance. On Monday morning, Tony Eberhart called Mary Lou as she was coming into school.

"I want you to meet my friend," he said. At least, that's what she thought he said, for there standing with one big paw reaching out to shake her hand was none other than our friend, Gene Norman. It was as simple as that!

Later that morning, Mary Lou's third class teacher sent her home on a sick pass saying that the girl had looked vacant and distant all through the class and perhaps she was ill?

Needless to say, Mary Lou walked on clouds that whole wonderful day. And when the telephone rang at five-thirty and Gene Norman's magnificent voice came over the wire, Mary Lou nearly fainted from excitement and joy, all those emotions that make a girl radiant. He asked her how she was and did she get home all right (how did he know I was sent home, M. L. thought) and was it possible for her to go to the movies with him that coming Friday night?

Was it possible!!!

Why, it was not only possible but also probable, definite, absolutely possible, definitely possible, etc., etc.

Make my voice sound casual, M. L. thought, trying desperately to regain her poise.

"I think I can make it," she answered. "I'll let you know tomorrow morning first thing, O.K.?"

Magnificent Gene answered, "Sure."

Then Mary Lou got rid of him quick before she could give away her feelings.

This was no date to turn down, so Friday night found Mary Lou walking quietly beside Gene towards the "Stadium." Imagine a tall, well-built guy, as handsome as they come, looking down at a small, sweet blonde girl and there you have the picture. But now the story changes, for as they enter the inner gates of the great theatre (it looked great to M.L. then), Gene asked, would you like some candy to which Mary Lou said yes. From there on the evening is tiring, the movie boring for some reason that no one can explain. Even though they seem to be a perfect couple who have enjoyed five days of togetherness, suddenly they want no more of each other than just a friendly acquaintance. Mary Lou longs for the "gals" and Gene longs for his gang of fellows.

All that Mary Lou has as a memento of the evening is her ticket stub and the two nickels that Gene gave her to choose whatever candy she preferred. Somehow, she didn't buy the candy.

Weeks later, she finds these mementos in a corner of her dresser drawer. In youth, sadness is always short, for there are too many happy days for every one, so shall we say that Mary Lou felt sad for only a minute or two, then threw the ticket stub away and gave the two nickels to her younger sister who wanted a comic book. . . .

This could have happened. I don't remember how they got in my pocket but the more I think about it, the more I wish that the story could have a happy ending.
